Fly screen soft close system launched

Phantom Fly Screens is pleased to announce its Phantom Fly Screens for doors and Serene Fly screens for windows will all be fitted with a soft-close braking system as standard.

The real benefit of soft close is when the fly screen is released, it will silently glide back or up to the roller housing. Soft close makes the fly screens a pleasure to use, as it keeps you in control.

This new development on our fly screens keeps us ahead of the competition and is only available due to the way we hand-build our screens to meet your individual needs.

Soft-close or roll-control can be an expensive cost option on many screens, however Phantom Screens will add this at no additional cost to the trade or retail customer.

This continues the company's commitment to making the best fitted fly screen available in the UK today and follows on from the announcement that the Phantom fly screen double door will also now be fitted with a discreet full length strip magnet. The strip magnet makes the door even easier to use, and creates an insect-proof seal on French and Patio doors.
